People in the food industry will benefit from using these knives because they have been developed in conjunction with industry users to meet their needs. Victory knives, manufactured in New Zealand, have been proven by thousands of satisfied users in the New Zealand and Australian meat and fish industries since 1927.

Benefits to people using these knives in the food industry:

- ✓ Stainless steel blade with polypropylene handle is standard. ProGrip handle is TPE resilient. A limited range is available with a Carbon Steel blade (codes commencing with "1" in table).
- ✓ Unique designs and handles developed in conjunction with customers.
- ✓ The stainless steel blade hardness is 54-56 HRC. The Victory stainless steel blade has a sub-zero (-78°C) quench after hardening. The benefit is a strong, hard and wear resistant blade with improved edge retention.
